

Ndindi Nyoro: The Most Naive MP in Kenya

Kiharu MP Ndindi Nyoro is the most naive politician in Kenya. Technically, Murang'a Senator Irungu Kang'ata is more naive, but he is better described as completely and utterly brainwashed.

1. According to Ndindi, to become rich in Kenya, you must have come from a very rich family. Yet, he is an MP (who is rich), and says he comes from a poor family.

The 2nd largest bank in Kenya, by assets, is Equity (Equity Group Holdings Limited). Its assets are worth KSh714 Billion (US$6.65 Billion).

Equity CEO is James Mwangi, son of a Kenyan peasant. Mr Mwangi has significant shares in the bank, and is certainly one of the 100 wealthiest Kenyans.

Interestingly, Mr Mwangi is from Murang'a county, same as Ndindi; yet Ndindi will tell you, with a straight face, that, unless your father was a tycoon, you have no chance of making it in Kenya.

Reality: More than 90% of richest 100 indigenous Kenyans are children of peasants.

In fact, children of richest Kenyans are very likely not to become anywhere as rich as their parents.

Example: Njenga Karume was among 10 richest Kenyans. None of his children is among 500 richest Kenyans.

This pattern is repeated again and again. But Ndindi Nyoro sees the opposite.

2. According to Ndindi, to become president of Kenya, you must have come from a “prominent family” i.e. “prominent families” have monopolised presidency.

Reality: Jomo Kenyatta was son of a peasant. Daniel arap Moi was son of a peasant. Mwai Kibaki was son of a peasant. Therefore, there is 75% chance for child of a peasant to become president of Kenya.

Where does Ndindi get his figures?

3. According to Ndindi Nyoro, “prominent Kenyan families” have made it impossible for “ordinary Kenyans” to rise economically. According to him, Kenyans from “already rich families” have also monopolised corruption.

Reality: The 2nd most corrupt Kenyan is Mathira MP Rigathi Gachagua, a political ally of Ndindi Nyoro. Rigathi is worth Billions - through corruption and money laundering - yet his parents were not rich.

Kenya: How MP Gachagua Moved Sh12 Billion in Just Seven Years

13 OCTOBER 2020

By Sam Kiplagat

On the list of wealthy industrialists, Mathira MP Rigathi Gachagua hardly features. His billionaire status has been baffling state agencies, which are now seeking to understand how the Mt Kenya politician made his fortune.

The Assets Recovery Agency (ARA) is investigating how Sh12.5 billion passed through Mr Gachagua's three accounts for seven years and whether money laundering was involved.

Before the agency moved in, the MP allegedly withdrew Sh7.3 billion, disbursed it to various companies and invested a portion in some assets. As a result, the agency could only locate Sh5.2 billion.

4. Ndindi Nyoro is a staunch supporter of Deputy President William Ruto - the most corrupt Kenyan in history.

According to Ndindi, although Ruto is very corrupt, his is the "good corruption" - He only steals from "The System".

Reality: In 2008, Ruto was MP for Eldoret North in Uasin Gishu county. During the election/ethnic violence of that year, farmer Adrian Muteshi was violently evicted from his Turbo farm, in Ruto's constituency.

Ruto promptly grabbed Muteshi's farm, and fraudulently changed the land title to his (Ruto's) name. Was farmer Muteshi part of "The System"?

A man who accuses Eldoret North MP William Ruto of grabbing and occupying his farm in Turbo at the height of the 2008 post-election violence begins to argue his case Monday morning.

5. According to Ndindi Nyoro: “Rahab Mukami, Faith Gitau and Isaac Mwaura cannot be Foreign-Born IMPOSTORS because they are fluent in Kikuyu”.
