

Coup d'état Will Solve Kenya Political Crisis

Since all other options to stabilise Kenya politics, and therefore lift all (or at least most) citizens from poverty have failed, it is time to try another strategy.

The country needs a complete reset - a Coup d'état that will result in 12 months of military rule - during which time crucial, pro-stability constitutional amendments will be made; ALL cartels in government crushed; a new patriotic electoral commission established; and new election laws enacted, that will make it impossible for crooks and charlatans from ever becoming candidates during general elections.

Unless someone is already benefiting from corruption, no mwananchi would oppose enactment of laws that will lock out corrupt people from politics for life.

Those currently in power claimed that leaders could be corrupt, and also lead the country towards achieving high economic growth.

Their economic advisers even came up with economic models to prove that was possible.

They have had 11 months to prove their case.

They have failed miserably.

The opposite has happened. The economy is collapsing. The Kenya shilling cannot even hold its own against Somalia shilling...

Within 6 months of Mr William Ruto and Mr Rigathi Gachagua coming to power, the government didn't even have money to pay civil servants.

They are currently borrowing hundreds of billions of shillings every month, just to run government departments and pay salaries.

STATE CAPTURE

Powerful cartels in government are ruining the country, deliberately.

They have completely Captured the State.

They are ruining the health sector; They are ruining agriculture sector; They are ruining manufacturing sector...they are ruining the whole economy.

How else can they be destroyed, if not by the military?

1. If it was 30 years ago, The Church could have been no.1 option to rescue Kenyans from these inhumane cartels.

But a lot has changed in the past 3 decades.

The most shadowy character in Kenya is 'patron of 50 churches'.

Enough said about that subject.

2. In some countries, the Judiciary could be trusted to act as midwife of the country's political reset.

But would you trust Kenya Judiciary to do that?

Even if most Judges are patriotic, would they be able to defeat the powerful cartels?

3. Would you trust Kenya parliament to do that?

(see below about many MPs relationship with the executive)

4. Powerful foreign 'benevolent entities'.

Would you trust them to midwife the country's political reset?

NOTE: Recent global events have proved that, if citizens want their country to be stable, they must stabilise it themselves, else, the country gets conquered by foreign 'benevolent entities'.

A disciplined military has one major advantage that makes it impossible to be conquered by criminal cartels (and I believe Kenya military is disciplined) - The fact that they have a clear hierarchy, and rigid rules that govern how a person rises from one level to the next.

In a disciplined military, you would never find a Major giving orders to a Brigadier.

In a country on the verge of collapsing like Kenya, persons with no formal job description, do order even Cabinet Secretaries around.

There are government departments where even the CEO cannot dare sack a junior clerk, because if he tries to do that, it is him who will go home.

With the military taking over the government for 12 months, no civil servant would be un-sackable
- And that is the only way STATE CAPTURE can be ended.

How did STATE CAPTURE in Kenya come about?

One can write many pages about this, but I will summarise it as follows:

- STATE CAPTURE was caused by result of CORRUPTION; As CORRUPTION thrived in the country, STATE CAPTURE thrived. It is a SYMBIOTIC relationship.

Without CORRUPTION, there can be no STATE CAPTURE; And without STATE CAPTURE, CORRUPTION (corrupt people) cannot thrive (most will be caught, charged in court, convicted and jailed).

- FAKE DOCUMENTS: The ability to buy fake documents, then go through corrupt politicians to secure big jobs - and therefore your loyalty is to those corrupt politicians, not to the country...This is to STATE CAPTURE, what fertiliser is to crops.

This cannot happen in a disciplined military - You cannot be recruited directly as a Colonel, just because you have a PhD, whether genuine or not.

Military has the advantage that, even if you managed to get recruited using fake documents, your fakeness will be recognised before you climb too high up the ladder.

You want to end STATE CAPTURE, that has made millions of Kenyans' lives miserable?

Let the military do it.

They have the resources.

And most importantly, it is the only "ARM" of government that is not (yet)CAPTURED.

Signs that Kenya is a Failing State - Teetering on the Brink of Total Collapse

1. Kenya head of state addressing senior government officials at State House, Nairobi, on August 1, 2023: "I speak to many of you on the phone...I ask you questions – you know that – on programs, on projects. And, I find that many of you don't even know what is going on in your ministries or departments. You have very scant information. The moment I know more than you in your ministry, then you must begin to understand that something is very wrong..."

President Ruto to Cabinet Secretaries: The moment I know more than you know about your ministry, there is a problem. Explain to me how you will advise me if you have less information than I do. I call many PSs and ask them what is going on here and they have no clue.

How do you run a department if you don't have knowledge? That is the highest level of incompetence.

Media, October 2022: "Some of the President's [Cabinet Secretary, CS] nominees face charges, including murder, rape and corruption..."

This is not an error - At least one person was appointed by Mr William Ruto as Cabinet Secretary (CS) while having an active murder case in court.

DPP withdraws Sh19m graft charges against Aisha Jumwa

The CS nominee was facing a murder charge and a Sh19 million graft case.

The Director of Public Prosecutions has this morning withdrawn the Sh19 million graft charges against former Malindi MP Aisha Jumwa.

Jumwa was nominated to the Public Service and Gender docket by President William Ruto.

Before her appointment, Jumwa was facing a murder charge and a Sh19 million graft case.

The Public Service and Gender Cabinet nominee was officially charged in court with the two cases.

She was accused of allegedly embezzlement CDF funds.

She was among the unveiled 22 Cabinet nominees that Ruto hopes will help him implement the Kenya Kwanza agenda.

The Constitution requires that they must all be vetted by the National Assembly before they are allowed to assume office as part of the requirements to enforce ethics and integrity.

However, some of the President's nominees face charges, including murder, rape and corruption.

When the head of state deliberately appoints incompetent people, criminals and scoundrels to head various ministries and government departments, then complains publicly that his appointees are incompetent, what does he expect the people to do?

At least 90 of the top 100 appointments Mr Ruto has made are of major crooks - apart from the crimes mentioned above, there are also human traffickers, weapon smugglers, drug barons...

SIGN I: Why did Mr Ruto KNOWINGLY appoint crooks to head various government departments?

2. In Kenyan homes, when Trade CS comes on TV, responsible parents rush for the remote, to either mute TV, or change channels, because of the filth that comes from his mouth.

US official Katherine Tais refuses to meet Trade CS Moses Kuria over foul mouth

WEDNESDAY JULY 19 2023

The nasty public tirades and social media posts of outspoken and unapologetic Industrialisation, Trade and Investment Cabinet Secretary Moses Kuria have landed him in trouble.

This time, the Nation has established that the visiting United States Trade Representative Katherine Tai cancelled two scheduled meetings with Mr Kuria to discuss the trade ties between the two countries.

Sources said Ms Tai was to meet Mr Kuria on Monday at his Two Rivers office but cancelled, labelling him an 'extremist' over his unpalatable remarks against individuals and institutions.

Ambassador Tai, who has been in the country from Monday to co-lead a meeting of the US-East Africa Community Trade and Investment Framework Agreement (Tifa) council, is reported to have expressed her reservations with the conduct of the Trade CS.

Mr Kuria was supposed to attend the Tifa council meeting alongside his East Africa Community and Arid and Semi-Arid Lands counterpart Rebecca Miano but he was reportedly locked out.

Mr Kuria is said to have been labelled an 'unwanted' host.

The Trade CS is so ill mannered that news about his primitive misogyny and dirty mouth has reached foreign capitals.

As a result, foreign dignitaries are refusing to meet him.

SIGN II: Why did Mr Ruto KNOWINGLY appoint a misogynistic imbecile as Trade CS, yet he knows that he [Trade CS] would have to deal with representatives from all genders during trade negotiations?

3. There is a Kenyan politician who has for long been rumoured to be closely allied with Somalia-based Al-Shabaab terrorist group.

For whatever reason, when Mr Ruto came into power, he appointed this politician as Defence CS.

In the past few months, Al-Shabaab has killed a lot of Kenyan civilians.

The Defence CS doesn't seem bothered by these atrocities committed against Kenyans by Al-Shabaab.

Currently, Al-Shabaab terrorists are on the verge of controlling 30% of Kenya territory - in the East of the country, that includes the Defence CS home county.

Has the Defence CS called an emergency security meeting to plot how to stop this terrorism?

NO.

'60% Of Mandera County Controlled By Al-Shabaab,' Laments Governor Mohamed Khalif

By Ayub Abdikadir

Published on: July 21, 2023 10:15 (EAT)

Mandera Governor Mohamed Adan Khalif has revealed that 60 per cent of the county is under the control of Al-Shabaab militants.

Mohamed says the presence of the militants has affected service delivery in various parts of the county.

He spoke during a security meeting to find ways of dealing with the Al-Shabaab insurgency in the North Eastern region where leaders called for concerted efforts in tackling the terrorist.

SIGN III: Why did Mr Ruto KNOWINGLY appoint a known Al-Shabaab ally as Defence CS?

4. Last week, Mr Ruto camped at Sagana State Lodge in Nyeri county for 5 days.

He received delegations from all Mount Kenya counties, but strangely, the media was not having any real news to report about from these meetings.

The only 'news' they reported was about thousands of locals being invited to the State Lodge to feast on beef stew and rice.

Some walked many kilometres to eat the free meal.

Those interviewed by the media appeared very happy after eating the meal at Sagana State Lodge.

Many thanked Mr Ruto for the generosity.

One of the villagers also happily added, "The cost of living is not high here (in Nyeri)".

A few days after Mr Ruto finished the 5-day camping in Mount Kenya, the media started reporting that, the reason all was so quiet about the meetings at Sagana State Lodge was that, every suggestion or opinion regarding local development matters that MPs brought to Mr Ruto's attention, he demanded these matters must not be discussed, not only there at State Lodge, but anywhere else, including parliament and public meetings.

In essence, Mt Kenya politicians have been ordered by the head of state not to discuss issues that their constituents want discussed...

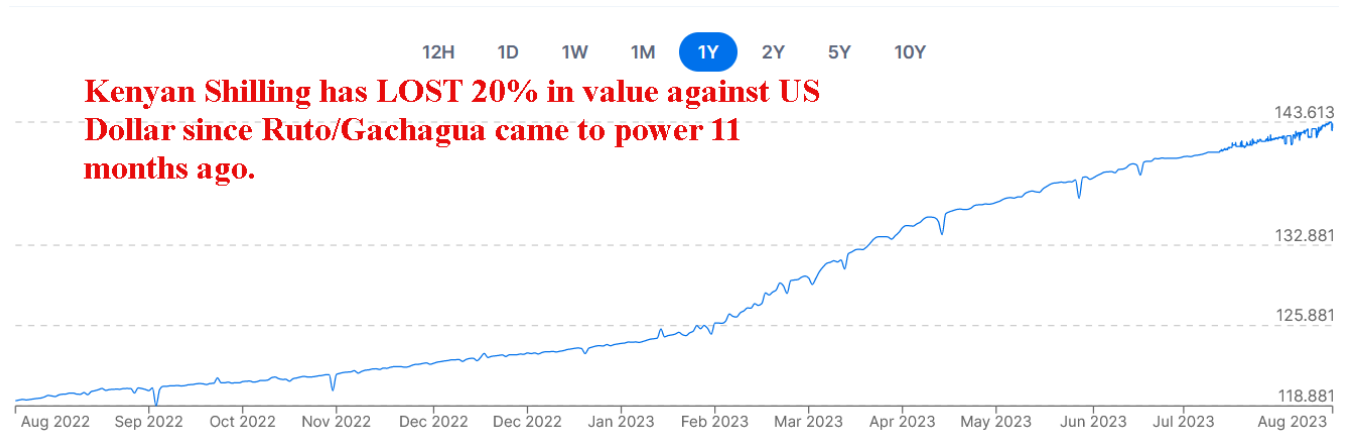

And out of fear, they obeyed these orders. (Apparent reason for this undemocratic order is so that Mountain people don't then start asking why they were duped during political campaigns.)

SIGN IV: Taxation Without Representation - What will happen when most residents of the Mountain realise that they are technically without any political representation, because their supposed representatives fear pushing for their interests?

Patients' agony as hospitals reject broke NHIF cards

Sunday, June 04, 2023

Poor patients who depend entirely on the national insurer to pay their hospital bills will have to pay cash or stay without treatment after private hospitals said they will ban the use of the card due to non-payment by the agency.

Nearly 80 per cent of Kenyans have no private insurance and depend on the National Health Insurance Fund (NHIF), the backbone of President William Ruto's Universal health coverage plan.

In public hospitals that still accept NHIF cards as a mode of payment, services paid for by the insurer are either not available or require patients to visit private facilities for expensive tests.

Health Cabinet Secretary Susan Nakhumicha last week said hospitals are owed Sh20 billion by NHIF and had asked the National Treasury to expedite the payment.

Ms Nakhumicha said she was aware that NHIF has been struggling

Cash crop farmers pained by low prices

A farmer tends to a coffee bush in Nyeri town on May 10, 2023. Coffee, macadamia, rice, tea and avocado have recorded a drastic drop in prices in recent months as powerful cartels invade the agriculture sector, threatening the livelihoods of thousands of farmers nationwide. Joseph Kanyi | Na

Coffee, macadamia, rice, tea and avocado have recorded a drastic drop in prices in recent months as powerful cartels invade the agriculture sector, threatening the livelihoods of thousands of farmers nationwide.

Coffee, which was retailing at least Sh100 per kilogramme last year, is now fetching only Sh42. A kilo of macadamia is now selling at Sh20, down from a high of Sh200 in 2019.

It is the same sad story for tea, rice, sugarcane and avocado farmers as prices dip with farmers piling pressure on the Kenya Kwanza government to fulfil the minimum guaranteed returns to cushion them from heavy losses.

Meru farmers cut down miraa trees over 'cartel' interference

A section of Meru farmers have cut down their miraa trees over what they term as neglect by the government to create a market for their produce resulting in cartel interference.

According to the farmers, their produce have been affected by cartels who have been controlling the market thus leaving the farmer earning peanuts.

At Gaciongo village in Mutuati sub county Igembe North constituency, Alexander Mwenda cut down his mature three-acre miraa trees due to frustrations.

Mwenda says for over 20 years, he had been getting a lot of money from his farm but now left with no other options than to replace the green gold trees with other crops.

He said initially his farm was giving him a total of more than Sh50,000 upon harvest but at the moment he can't even get a quarter of it.

Coup d'état

Clearly Kenya is a failing state.

Only a Coup d'état - 12 months of military rule - will prevent the country from diving from failing state, to failed state.

1. First 3 months after coup - Finish STATE CAPTURE & its twin, CORRUPTION.

2. 3-9th month - Constitutional amendments, electoral commission, election laws.

3. 12th month - General election, minus all crooks and impostors.

New civilian government sworn in.

Politically stable Kenya starts thriving economically.

Any Kenyan with a better suggestion about how to rescue our country from collapsing completely, please write about it online/social media.

Debate about this very serious matter is very healthy.
